Wild Jordan

Craft Products Catalog

RSCN's handcraft workshops were established as part of our socioeconomic development program for local communities. Sixteen handcraft workshops have been set up in the past decade and are currently operated and managed by RSCN.

The sixteen workshops are located in and around different RSCN managed nature reserves in an effort to spread benefits to different underprivileged local communities. These workshops help to conserve nature by providing new sources of income and employment for families in villages near to nature reserves to reduce their dependency on the reserves' natural resources. Our workshops use the natural assets of protected areas to create sustainable economic and social benefits for local communities.

Over 60 local women have been empowered through the workshops by providing them with employment, and are helping to alleviate poverty in areas that offer few other employment opportunities. These thriving handcraft enterprises are making conservation important to the lives of local communities by providing alternatives to hunting, overgrazing and a number of other threats to wildlife habitats in Jordan.

These nature-inspired businesses create distinctive handmade products that are sold at Wild Jordan's nine Nature Shops which are located at each nature reserve and at the Wild Jordan Center in Amman. The unique and high-quality products are wonderful as souvenirs, gifts or to decorate your home, and can be customized for corporate and large orders.

AZRAQ Silk Screen Printing Workshop

Silk printing is the art of printing designs on a screen of silk, with blank areas coated with an impermeable substance, and ink is forced through the silk onto the printing surface.

AZRAQ Ostrich Egg Dotting Workshop

The AZRAQ Ostrich Egg is hand dotted by Jordanian artisans of The Azraq Wetland Reserve; The Royal Society for the Conservation of Nature trained the women to dot unique designs on unfertile eggs only.

Egg dotting is one of many enterprises initiated to bring benefits to people living near our nature reserves. Blue Naked Ostrich living in the Shaumari Nature Reserve near Azraq laid this egg. It's the closest living relative of the Syrian Ostrich, which is now extinct in Jordan. RSCN is breeding ostriches as a part of program to save endangered species in Jordan.

Recycled Stationery & Packaging

Established in 2009 One of the principles of protecting the nature is by recycle the unused products such as paper, RSCN established this workshop in order to recycle the paper and make a nice, high quality packages that can be customized in to any size and color.

AZRAQ Tailor Workshop

Established 2004. Sewing is a talent that most women have, RSCN improved it and opened a new chances for these ladies to have an income coming in from it, designing a usable products from their hands gives them a push to be more creative and motivated. For the hip, conscience, adventurers of today we have just the right combination of products. Whether a camera bag or a water bottle holder, Azraq bags are handmade, durable, and have our famous RSCN icons from nature to deliver our message of helping nature and helping people.

Azraq Eco-games Workshop

Established in 2004 to reflect the beauty of Jordan's nature throughout these games that can be enjoyed by kids and adults alike.

Who said learning can't be fun? At the Educational Toys Workshop, women create a wide selection of toys, which both adults and children can enjoy while simultaneously learning. Our version of Wild Monopoly is a family favorite!

The Soap House

Established in 2007 in Jordan's northern region of Orjan and Ajloun and funded by Hanns Seidel, the Soap House produces a range of olive oil-based soaps and beauty products. The RSCN took inspiration from the local practice of producing olive oil soap to create an enterprise that creates high quality and ethical products. The Orjani women employed by the Soap House are in reduced circumstances, however, they are given the chance to enjoy vocational work and create popular and in-demand products.

The Biscuit House

The Biscuit House is currently owned and managed by local community women under a newly adopted community engagement model, where the women are transformed from traditional employees to actual local community entrepreneurs. Under this model, RSCN hopes to further build the capacity of those communities, provide them with the necessary know how to manage and sustain their own income generating projects.

The Biscuit House was originally funded through Hanns-Seidel-Stiftung and managed by The Royal Society for the Conservation of Nature for 5 years, upon the success of the house it was handed over to local community women as of September 2014. The women continue the production of RSCN Jordanian Delights products, branded Tasali. Tasali products include Molasses and Tahini Sandwich Cookies, Olive Oil Crisps and Energy Bars.

Dana Fruit Drying Workshop

Established in 1995 by the RSCN, in Jordan's southern region of Dana, the Fruit Drying Workshop produces jams, herbs, and fruit leather. These products are made up of a delicious combination of fruits that are part of traditional Jordanian breakfasts and dinners.

Providing underprivileged women from the local community with their own salaries, the Fruit Drying Workshop is aiding members of society by changing their role and allowing them to support their own families.

Dana Herbs Workshop

Established in 1995 From Dana wide terrains comes a delicious combination of herbs that makes a traditional portion from the Jordanian breakfast and dinner.

The sun-drenched terraces of Dana Village provide a perfect place for growing herbs. The women of the village harvest the herbs by hand and lay them out in the Jordanian sun to dry.

Mujib Herbs Workshop

Funded by the Embassy of the Czech Republic, the Medicinal Herbs Workshop produces a range of local and wild-grown herbs with healing abilities

Offering work opportunities to underprivileged women from the local community, this workshop is allowing those women to earn an income and provide them with a chance to deal with life's challenges.

Sandblasting Workshop

Established in 2003 and funded by the Embassy of Switzerland, this project creates job opportunities for the local people and to support the conservation of programs in Mujib areas.

Local stones are blasted with Jordanian sand, creating unique designs that are reminiscent of the natural sites throughout all of Jordan's reserves.

The Sandblasting process is an intricate one, usually it is done with a piece of copper, where the copper is placed against the stone, then pumped with sand. The process can be done in 2 different ways, inward and upwards.

Dibeen Ceramics Workshop

Established in 2007 by a fund from UNDP & GIF. Dibeen is a place that's been famous for pottery making, the idea was to develop the local handicrafts by making new products that meet the needs of this period of time. Some of the products were inspired from the ancient pottery that is showcased in Jerash museum.

Dibeen Embroidery

Established in 2007, the embroidery workshop in Dibeen is a part of a conservation effort by the Royal Society for the conservation of Nature to reduce the damage of illegal woodcutting by creating alternative employment opportunities for the local inhabitants. The Dibeen Forest Reserve is one of the region's most important habitats for flora and fauna.

Leather and Candles Workshop

Established in 2011, the workshop offers training session in the art of candle making by infusing natural elements for aesthetics.

Being eco-friendly products, the candles are infused with flower, grape vines, or orange slices to stress our commitment to preserving nature

The Bedouin women of Feynan create candle lanterns, nature boxes, and other attractive gifts out of goat leather. These naturally cured goatskin products not only make great home accessories, they also help reduce the damage caused by grazing, thus reducing livestock with harming the Bedouins' livelihood.

Thank you for supporting nature conservation in Jordan.

Revenues will go directly towards benefiting underprivileged local communities living in and around Jordan's reserves
